

DESCRIPTION

The Star bench collection stands out for its sturdiness and functional design, entirely made of perforated steel coated with epoxy-polyester powders. The standard finish is offered in black, but upon request, it is also available in a refined glossy gray shade. Perfectly designed to meet the needs of healthcare and high-traffic environments, these benches are easy to clean and highly durable, making them the ideal solution where frequent sanitation is essential. The bench configuration allows for space optimization, offering a practical and functional solution for waiting rooms, clinics, hospitals, and other professional settings. Due to their versatility, Star benches can also be used in communal spaces, combining durability, ergonomics, and a well-crafted aesthetic. With their essential design and focus on practicality, Star benches are an excellent choice for furnishing spaces that require functionality and style without compromise.
