DESCRIPTION

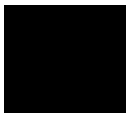

The minimalist design of the Wave chair is crafted to seamlessly integrate into cutting-edge professional environments, combining aesthetics and functionality. This chair stands out with its self-supporting gray mesh monocoque, designed to offer maximum ergonomic support and excellent breathability throughout the entire workday. The black plastic structure adds a touch of understated elegance, while the brushed aluminum base provides an element of strength and modernity, ensuring stability and durability over time. Thanks to its versatility and the quality of the materials used, this chair is an excellent choice for modern offices seeking sophisticated and functional furniture without compromising on a futuristic and innovative aesthetic.
